JAMES O. CURWOOD PASSES AWAY

Was Noted Author and Conservationist

James Oliver Curwood, author and noted conservationist, died at his home in Owosso, Saturday night at 11 o'clock, after an illness with streptococcus infection, from which he had been ill for just a week.

Death came to the noted writer of stories of the north woods at his home, "Curwood Castle," after a desperate battle against the infection that steadily sapped his strength.

Born at Owosso, June 12, 1878, Curwood went as a boy to Florence, a village in Erie county, Ohio. At Ogonitz, near Vermillion, Ohio, he attended a one-room school.

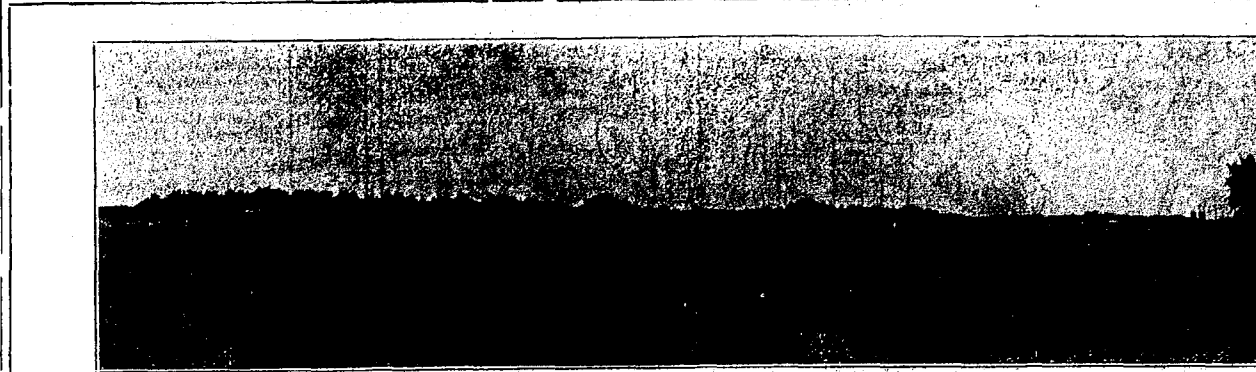

Later Curwood attended high school at Berlin Heights, Ohio, soon after his family returned to Owosso and Curwood went to the University of Michigan, where he studied in the English department. From there he entered newspaper work in Detroit, but left after seven years to follow his inclination as a novelist. In 1909 he was married to Miss Ethel Greenwood, an Owosso teacher. Curwood had been previously married and two daughters were born to the union. Besides his wife and one son, James Oliver Curwood Jr., survives.

Curwood began to write novels in 1907 with the outdoors and the north woods as a background. Much of his writing was done in the woods where he had gone for his material. Early in the far north, partly in his log cabin on the banks of the AuSable, where he completed, just a few months ago, a magnificent log cabin in the manner of the seigneurial overlord of early French Canada, and partly at home in Owosso, first in a small room in the house in which he was born and later in his studio near the old home and on the banks of the Shiawassee river.

The Curwood studio, replica of an ancient Norman chateau, contains many trophies attesting to the skill of the author as a big game hunter. In the days before he pledged himself to cease destruction of wild life, and to hunting and stalking game with a camera instead of a high powered rifle. There is also to be found one of the finest collections of big game photographs ever taken on the American continent, trophies of the author's latest hunting expeditions.

Several of his novels were made into motion pictures. One of his best sellers, "Kazan," brought him wide acclaim from the moving picture dramatization.

Among his best known books are: "The Courage of Captain Plum," (written in 1903); "The Wolf Hunters," "The Gold Hunters," "The Danger Trail," "The Honor of the Big Snows," "Phillip Steele of the Royal Mounted," "Kazan," "The Courage of Marge O'Doone," "No-mads of the North," "The River's End," "The Valley of Silent Men," "The Flaming Forest," "The Country Beyond," "The Alaskan," "A Gentleman of Courage," "The Ancient Highway," and "The Black Hunter." The Curwood home on the South Branch in the southern part of this county, which was only recently completed, is one of the finest log cabins on that stream, costing more than

GRAYLING GOLF COURSE

Golf players are enthusiastic over Grayling's fine new 9-hole course located on the banks of the AuSable River, and U. S. 27 west of the Michigan Central Railroad. Visitors are welcomed here at all times and hundreds are enjoying the privilege. "Play golf and keep young," seems to be the popular slogan these days.

TROOPS PASS IN REVIEW

30,000 PEOPLE WITNESS REGIMENTAL REVIEW

Michigan's National Guard passed in review before its commander-in-chief, Governor Fred W. Green, Sunday, with fully twenty thousand of people looking on. On foot, on horseback, in automobiles, wagons, trucks, tractors and in airplanes the Thirty-second division troops made a perfect showing before their governor, while throngs of visitors that clogged the roads to camp all forenoon, applauded.

The troops were drawn up in their regiments at 2 p. m. and Governor Green, with Major General Guy M. Wilson, camp commander, and his staff, rode around the field and then took positions to review the regiments. The Sixty-Third Infantry brigade was first in line, led by its commander, Brigadier General John H. Schouten, of Grand Rapids.

The 125th Regiment, commanded by Colonel Milton L. Hinkley, of Detroit, was the first infantry unit and was followed by the 126th, commanded by Colonel Edgar H. Campbell, of Grand Rapids.

Next came the artillery, with the 119th, commanded by Colonel Joseph H. Lewis of Lansing, in the lead, with their 75 m.m. guns and their horse-drawn equipment. The 119th was followed by the 122nd Field Artillery, commanded by Colonel Heinrich A. Pickert.

The regimental staff officers rode first, in their olive drab regimental automobiles, followed by the batteries on foot, except for those who drove the tractors that hauled huge 155 m.m. howitzers. Next in line was the 107th Medical Regiment, Detroit, led by Lieutenant Colonel Carl Hanna, who is in command of the regiment, while Colonel John D. Buck, regimental commander, is acting as division surgeon.

Last came the 106th Cavalry, commanded by Major Harold T. Webber, of Royal Oak. The mounted guardsmen, riding in faultless style, with the spotless white saddle cloths standing out against their dark mounts, won the most plaudits from the crowd of any of the troops.

The cavalry made three circuits of the parade ground, first walking past the governor and the reviewing officers, then coming around at a gallop. On the last round, the troopers came at a charge, bending low over their mounts and flashing past the crowds as fast as their horses would carry them.

While the troops performed for the crowd on the grounds, the guardsmen put on a show in the air. Four planes of the 32nd Division air service, from Detroit, commanded by Major Floyd E. Evans, sailed over the parade ground in formation, and later did stunts in the air. One pilot flew low past the reviewers and saluted the governor from the cockpit of his plane.

Governor Green, who is an excellent horseman, was a conspicuous figure in the review from his mount, "Charlie," shipped here for the review. He rode to the opening of the camp by airplane following the review and started for Ionia in a plane of the air service, piloted by Lieutenant Clement Brown.

MacNider is Visitor
Among the many thousands of persons who visited Camp Grayling Sunday was Hanford MacNider, assistant secretary of war, and former national commander of the American Legion. MacNider flew here from Selfridge field and left in his airplane for Jackson to attend a meeting of the state convention of the American Legion.

Colonel E. G. Meyer, of the regular army, also witnessed the review. Harold H. Emmon, who was a week-end visitor, also left camp in an airplane bound for Jackson. While here Emmon said that the opening of the landing field at Grayling was an important step in encouraging aviation in northern Michigan. He said there was also a field on Black River ranch, 60 miles northeast of Grayling, one at Cheboygan and one planned at Ludington.

"With these fields here at radical points, many resorters will undoubtedly use airplanes in making the trip to their summer homes, rather than endure the discomforts and loss of time on the train," said Emmon. He also said that Governor Green told him that it is the plan of the state to establish landing fields on the government reserves throughout the state.

GOVERNOR GREEN VISITS CAMP

WAS BRIGADIER GENERAL IN MICHIGAN NATIONAL GUARD

Boom—boom; the flash of sabres; the glitter of arms. Airplanes circling the camp. Finally, a motor car, escorted by a squadron of the 106th Cavalry—and Governor Fred Green had arrived at camp.

Arriving at a military camp in this fashion was something new for Michigan's chief executive, although he is a veteran soldier himself. It was not so many years ago when Governor Green was "Brig. General Green," and Inspector General of the Michigan National Guard.

Camp Grayling's welcome to the Governor on Friday afternoon was spontaneous and genuine. Not for many years have the troops been able to welcome one of their comrades in arms soldier to soldier.

The Governor was quartered in a tent adjoining that of Maj. Gen. Guy M. Wilson on Division Hill, while the Governor's family remained at the officers' club.

On Saturday evening, the Governor's Ball was staged in the ballroom of the club and Sunday the annual Division Review was held in his honor.

Among other distinguished guests are Col. Edgar A. Meyer, who represents the Corps Commander and who will present the marksmen's medals to the men who have qualified on the target range; Major Dan Smith, former Adjutant of the 63rd Brigade, Michigan National Guard; Maj. Chester B. McCormick, F. A., who as Col. McCormick commanded the 119th F. A. during the World War. Major McCormick has been stationed in Columbus, Ohio as instructor for the Ohio National Guard. The 119th F. A. band played him into camp.

The new 107th Observation Squadron is attracting a great deal of attention at camp this year. The Squadron is equipped with 6 planes, 4 P-1, 1 VE-9, and 1 JN-4 Hiss. The landing field is a mile north of Grayling, near T-Town but the officers and enlisted men are quartered in camp.

Friday, the Squadron flew to Grand Rapids to meet Col. Lindbergh. They left Grayling at 7:30 A. M. and were only one hour and forty minutes enroute. The following officers made the trip: Major Evans with Col. Sinke as passenger, Lt. Selzer with "Capt. Kincaid as passenger, Capt. Squire, Capt. Anderson, Lieut. Brown, Lieut. O'Neil, Lt. Ogden and Lieut. Nichol.

The Squadron took part in the big Division problem, which is being conducted this week.

Diving Rafts Ready for Use
Two 14 by 14-foot diving rafts, constructed by the state, have been anchored at diving depth on Lake Margrethe for the use of enlisted men. In case they prove as popular as expected, others will probably be built before the 1928 training camp.

"BEST SOLDIER IN CAMP GRAYLING"

WINS MEDAL AGAINST LARGE FIELD OF ENTRIES

Sgt. Franklin J. Fazakerley, Co. D, 126th Inf., of Holland, is the proudest soldier in the Michigan National Guard today. He was pronounced winner of the Stewart Medal, awarded each year to the enlisted man, who after a series of eliminations conducted by regular army instructors, proved himself most proficient in the work of his arm of service.

The Stewart Medal is a memorial to the late General Earl R. Stewart, formerly commanding the 63rd Infantry Brigade and the Michigan National Guard. This medal is a finely wrought decoration of solid gold, suspended by a ribbon from a bar of the same material both suitably engraved to denote the nature and significance of the award and the name of the successful candidate.

Sgt. Fazakerley was chosen from a very large field of competitors and is a real soldier of the modest type. The medal was presented by Governor Fred W. Green at the Division review Sunday.

Company, Battalion and Regimental eliminations were held under such rules as the Commanding Officer of the organization conducting the elimination directed. The successful contestant in each Regiment represented that organization in the final elimination contest.

The representative of each Regiment, the 1st Squadron, 106th Cavalry, 32nd Division A. S., and the Division Special Troops competed in the final elimination before a board selected from the Regular Army instructors on duty with the Michigan National Guard, by the Division Commander.

The final elimination was made, based upon the contestants in the following:

The Uniform—Manner of wearing, condition, etc., 10.
School of the Soldier without Arms—Knowledge of and ability to execute, 20; ability to command, 10.
Arms and Equipment—Condition and manner of carrying same, 30.
School of the Soldier with Arms—Knowledge of an ability to execute, 20; ability to command, 10.

FLIES RYAN MONOPLANE TO GRAYLING

Pilot Husband of Frederic Girl
The presence of Lieut. Edwin L. (Eddie) Preston with his Ryan monoplane at the Grayling landing field Sunday has a double interest to people of this region. Lieut. Preston is the husband of one of our Crawford county young ladies, Erma Craven, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Craven, Frederic. Lieut. Preston arrived late Sunday afternoon. While here he gave many people the opportunity of a trip in the air, and he and his plane were kept busy all the rest of the afternoon until darkness necessitated suspension of flying.

Lt. Preston is chief test pilot and sales manager for the Driggs Aircraft Corporation, Lansing, and is special pilot for the Foster Airways, an organization that is developing airways about the state. They now have four planes in operation and are planning upon adding others very soon.

The monoplane he used Sunday was similar to the famous "Spirit of St. Louis," that was flown by Lindbergh. Mrs. Preston has taken many trips with her husband and is quite enthusiastic over flying. She says that Mr. Preston is highly pleased with Grayling's new landing field and believes that it is to become very popular among aviators.

At 8:00 P. M., the theme will be, "The Secret of Our Courage." We had a great service last Sunday night, and we would like you to catch the contagion of song and inspiration this Sunday night.

On Monday night, Dr. F. H. Cookson will be present and all members of the official board are invited to attend. Reports of the various organizations are asked for. The matter of pastoral supply for next year will be considered and we are asking for a full attendance of the Board. The time of meeting is 8:00 P. M., and the place—The Church Parlor.

A Thought for The Week
Why the crime wave in America? Are we playing a dangerous game these days in neglecting the essentials in life? Hear what Bishop Gore has to say—"No! No! No! Sabbath means no church; no church means no worship; no worship means no religion; no religion means no morality; no morality means no society; no society means no government; no government means anarchy."

In state life, in community life, as well as in the life of the individual, this spiritual law is just as operative as the law of gravitation in our physical universe—"Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap." In the light of that, can we afford to ignore or neglect the Christian Church?

HAGENBECK-WALLACE CIRCUS
PETOSKEY AUG. 22

Circus fans and enthusiasts are keenly interested in the forthcoming exhibitions in Petoskey on August 22, of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, known as the foremost trained wild animal show in the universe. Many folks from this community are making arrangements to attend the big circus, as Hagenbeck-Wallace, universally is known for its high-class performance.

Hagenbeck-Wallace comes this year with an entirely new program, from the grand and glittering opening spectacle, "The Glittering Opening," to the closing finale, "Blazing Glory." Several hundred people appear in "The Glittering," which is from the pen of Rex DeRoselli, noted moving picture author and director. A small fortune has been expended in the purchase and wardrobe costumes from leading New York and Tokio firms, while singers of note will have the principal roles.

Clyde Beatty, Bob McPherson and Capt. Bernard are a few of the famous trainers that will subjugate the jungle brutes in the steel arena. Beatty will work a mixed group of lions and tigers, numbering over twenty, while McPherson will handle fifteen ferocious Siberian tigers. Another mixed group of pumas, leopards, bears and hyenas will be put through their paces by Bernard. Many other wild animal numbers will be presented, as well as displays by domestic beasts.

Prominent arena features include the Orrin Davenport Troupe of Equestrians and the Ward-Kimball Family of Flyers. The Davenports are rated among the first American riders, while the Ward-Kimballs are direct from a successful tour of Europe. Other aerialists of note are the Martin Sisters, the Sylvester Trio and the Steele Sisters. Fifty clowns, exactly that number, will scamper about the hippodrome track.

Summer Cottages built this way are cool and comfortable

In no other way can so much comfort be built into a summer home for so little money as with Celotex Insulating Lumber.

This remarkable lumber, made from the long, tough fibres of cane, does what no ordinary building materials can do. It practically stops heat. It shuts out wind and moisture.

The comfortable coolness of a cottage built with Celotex is a delightful surprise. And if you want to use your cottage late in the season, Celotex will keep it snug and warm.

The cost of such a cottage is no more than the cost of one built with good lumber. Celotex is used for both exterior and interior finish. When painted, it will resist the weather quite as well as wood lumber. And it is much stronger in wall sections than wood. The broad, strong Celotex boards are easy to handle and apply. Sawed and nailed as wood lumber.

We sell and recommend Celotex. Ask us for sample and prices.

WHY NOT MARSTON ON CONSERVATION BOARD

The vacancy in the State Department of Conservation made by the death of James Oliver Curwood, is sure to bring on an avalanche of applications for the position. Some of the applicants may be well fitted for that job and some will apply because of political ambitions.

The big problem of conservation lies among the northern counties, and particularly are such counties as ours deeply concerned in getting men on the Board that know conditions and know the needs of this region and by their knowledge are able to legislate wisely. In looking over the field we can think of none who might be better fitted to serve on the conservation board than T. F. Marston, secretary of the East Michigan Tourist Association and of the North Eastern Michigan Development Bureau.

Mr. Marston knows conditions in Michigan very well indeed. He has spent nearly fifteen years in development work among the northern counties and if there is any man who knows the needs of conservation of natural resources and wild life, Mr. Marston surely does. He served on that board under Gov. Groesbeck and has had valuable experience in affairs that confront it. He is constructive in his work and not playing politics. He is able to get along with all classes of people, as his work as secretary of the Development Bureau ably proves. This region with its many classes and many politicians, all acclaim him and work with him in his efforts to bring prosperity to the people of the north. All look alike to Mr. Marston, and his work goes steadily on progressively and constructively. We believe the appointment of Mr. Marston to the Board by Gov. Green would meet with almost universal approval of the people of northern Michigan.

THE SONG OF THE LONESOME ONE

"And young men shall see visions and old men shall dream dreams."—Bible.
(Dedicated to my dear father, on the occasion of his 75th birthday.)

Take me back to my childhood days,
With their trust and their love supreme.

Back to the days when the world was young,
Back to my days of dream!

Take me back to a cottage small,
With roses by its door,
Back to the spot, love-crowned and sweet,
Loving it more and more!

Take me back to a father's love,
Back to his arms' embrace,
Give me the power through tear-dimmed eyes
To see God in his face!

O, take me back to my childhood days,
My heart is sick with grief,
So back once again, to those glad dream days,
And there let me find relief.

There let me live 'mong memories rich,
There let love shelter me,
Back to those glad days of yore,
When life was full and free!

DOLLARS DO NOT GROW ON TREES

The manner in which taxes are mounting and the staggering burdens they are putting upon all the people should give concern to every individual who has any interests in the future. It seems to be easy to incur obligations and get into debt and correspondingly difficult to curtail extravagance and get free from our bond and interest burdens.

While federal taxes have been reduced, state and local taxes have risen twice as fast as federal taxes have been reduced. Local taxes of municipalities and districts of one sort and another, which are organized on various pretexts for the purpose of levying some new form of tax, are responsible for the orgy we are passing through.

Every tax dollar comes from the pockets of the people. It does not grow on money trees. Every dollar wasted or spent unnecessarily is a dollar of capital destroyed. It has ceased earning, developing and producing.—Northfield (Minn.) News.

TESTED RECIPES

BY BETTY BARCLAY

ONE-EGG CAKE

1-4 cupful butter or substitute.
2-3 cupful sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1-2 cupful milk
1-2 cupfuls prepared cake flour
2 teaspoonfuls baking powder
1-2 teaspoonful vanilla

Cream the shortening; add gradually the sugar, beating hard, then the egg; sift flour and baking powder together; add alternately with the milk, a little at a time. Add vanilla. Bake in a shallow pan in a moderate oven about 30 minutes (350-375 degrees F.) Ice as desired.

BAKED BACON

Of all methods of cooking bacon, baking probably gives the most delicate and delicious flavor. Place a baking rack in a baking pan, lay slices of bacon on the rack and cook it gently to the preferred degrees of crispness. The fat running into the baking pan will be perfectly clear and can be used for many cooking purposes while the bacon itself will be exceptionally digestible, due to the fact that it has not lain in the fat at all while cooking.

HEALTHY TAFFY

2 cups sugar
4 tablespoons lemon juice
4 tablespoons water
2 tablespoons butter
Melt butter, remove from heat, add sugar, lemon juice and water, stirring until well mixed. Cook until a little dropped in cold water becomes brittle. Pour on buttered plates and when cool pull until white and glistening. Draw into long narrow strips and cut in pieces with scissors or sharp knife.

LEMON FROSTING

1 cup sugar
1-4 cup water
1-4 cup lemon juice
2 stiffly beaten egg whites
Without stirring until syrup spins a permanent thread. Remove from heat and let stand while beating egg whites. Pour syrup slowly over beaten egg-whites, beating until frosting is stiff enough to spread.

2 teaspoon baking powder
1-2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1-2 cup milk
1 tablespoon melted butter
Sift dry ingredients. Add eggs, milk and melted butter and stir until well mixed. Dip in orange sections. Fry in deep fat.

BEEF LOAF

1 pound ground round steak
2 cups cold rice
1 chopped green pepper
3-4 cup water
1 chopped onion
1-4 teaspoon celery salt
1-4 teaspoon sage
Salt, pepper
Mix ingredients as given. Place in greased baking pan and dot with fat. Bake in moderate oven and serve with tomato sauce or spaghetti.

Invalid Omelet

1 egg
Few gratings orange rind
1 tablespoon orange juice
Few grains salt
1 orange
2 teaspoons butter
2 teaspoons powdered sugar
Beat the egg slightly, adding the orange rind and juice and salt. Peel the orange, removing all white membrane, and cut into very thin slices. Sprinkle with one teaspoon of the powdered sugar. Melt the butter in hot individual omelet pan or frying pan. Pour in the egg mixture and cook over a low heat, shaking the pan and pricking the mixture with a fork until all the mixture is cooked. Roll or fold and turn out onto serving dish. Sprinkle with remaining sugar and surround with slices of orange.

ROADSIDE MARKETS

A unique situation is pointed out by the publicity bureau of the National Grange when it calls attention of members to the growth of the roadside market as a new menace to marketing. Declaring the Grange to have been one of the first agencies to foster the roadside market, it now reverses itself and asserts that instead of proving an agency for the promotion of direct buying by the consumer, it now has become a "runaway" project rapidly getting away from the farmer and becoming the outlet for low grade produce on city markets and then carting it to the country to be attractively arranged and sold as "fresh from the farm." The result, of course, is dissatisfied customers and an inclination on the part of the city dweller to buy from reliable dealers in the city as formerly.

Instead of weeding out the "exhorbitant profits of surplus middlemen," the fact is, according to the Grange publicity bureau, the honest-to-goodness farmer finds roadside selling not too profitable in the face of shyer competition and now urges a licensing of all roadside markets as the remedy.

Here again is another matter in which the Grange will soon find itself reversed. The question of allowing a grower to offer his own products for sale at any time and place is rather well settled and especially will the licensing of a farmer to sell his own produce from his own doorway be a ticklish business for any legislator to attempt to license.

An excellent idea would appear to be a campaign of education in which the offering at the home market of any but the best of the season be discouraged. The buying public will soon be educated to buy of the grower at his door if such a plan be followed.

A Southern Michigan man dropped dead in the post office after reading a letter. It was from his college, telling him not to send a check that week.

MESDAMES A. E. AND OLAF MICHELSON ENTERTAIN WITH BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Mrs. Axel Michelson and Mrs. Olaf Michelson entertained Tuesday afternoon with a charming luncheon at the Rustic Tavern at Houghton, Lake Forest. The thirty ladies, who responded to the invitation, were received in the lobby of the Rustic hotel by Mrs. Axel Michelson, Mrs. Mortenson of Detroit, Mrs. John Schooten of Grand Rapids, and Miss Wood of Flint. The luncheon was served in the dining room of the Rustic Tavern and the guests remained for cards. Prizes for bridge were received by Mrs. C. G. Clippert, Mrs. Esbern Hanson and Mrs. Mortenson, while the high scores for 500 were held by Mrs. Chas. Fehr and Mrs. Esbern Olson. This was one of the delightful affairs of the summer season.

GEORGE ENTSINGER COMMITS SUICIDE

Despondency over ill health and financial worries prompted George Entsminger, age 34 years, to take his own life, shortly after noon yesterday (Wednesday) by shooting himself with a revolver, the bullet entering just above the heart. His young wife and six children, ranging in ages between 12 years and seven months, were present at the time of the shooting and they are prostrated with grief over the terrible affair.

Mr. Entsminger, who was head mechanic at the Burke garage, went to work as usual yesterday morning but went home about ten o'clock telling Mr. Burke he was going home to rest and that he was tired out. Mrs. Entsminger says he acted worried, but that she did not notice anything very unusual and was terror-stricken when he produced a revolver and said he was going to shoot himself. Following the shooting he staggered from the house to the back doorway where screams of the wife and children attracted neighbors. The victim was hurried to Mercy hospital, where he passed away a few moments later.

The family came to Grayling from Kalkaska last summer, remaining here until fall, when they went to Montone, Indiana, where they made their home with relatives, returning to Grayling the middle of June this year. Mrs. Entsminger said they had never quarreled, that he was good to his family, and had always been very kind to her and the children and he was cherished by them.

Those surviving William and Robert, Francis, Pauline, Janice, Kieth and Robert, 7 months. They have the sincere sympathy of the people of the community in their sorrow.

The funeral will be private and will be held Friday afternoon, with services at the home.

ST. MARY'S SUMMER CARNIVAL

The Summer Carnival given by the ladies of St. Mary's church last Saturday afternoon was a fine success. There was a large crowd present in the afternoon and many remained for supper who were served between 4:30 and 7:00 o'clock. The school gymnasium was prettily decorated, an awning of orange and black surrounding the room. Overhead were hung streamers of asparagus fern which, with the awning, made a pretty setting for the affair.

A feature of the evening was a visit from Governor Fred Green, who was a guest at Camp Grayling, Gov. Green and his staff and General Wilton and his staff having been invited to be the guests of the ladies at dinner.

Following the dinner, General Wilton arose and introduced Mr. Rasmus Hanson to the younger members of the Guard, who might not possibly know who he was. Mr. Hanson received a round of loud applause.

Among the other speakers were T. W. Hanson, who in turn introduced Governor Green. This was the first time Grayling had been afforded the pleasure of meeting Mr. Green, and he was loudly applauded.

In the evening the Knights of Columbus entertained a large crowd at dancing, with music furnished by a soldier organization.

The following were the winners of the articles that were given away: Porch swing, No. 722—Jake Letzky; the quilt, No. 773—Henry Jordan; electric floor lamp, No. 560—David White; Irish crochet set, No. 601—Bernadette McNeven; barrel of flour, No. 834—E. Bromsist; No. 125th Infantry; dinner ring, No. 883—Mr. Zuidema, Co. E, 125th Infantry.

FORESTS AND DROUGHT

Eminent foresters take the position that the cutting of Michigan forests has had much to do with the lowering of lake levels throughout the state in recent years. They contend that the forests serve as reservoirs for holding the moisture, letting it out gradually during the dry season and preventing floods when heavy rainfalls come. They claim that the steady seepage from the woods keeps the lakes at a uniform level, while the moisture in the depth of the woods is drawn up by the sun, causes local showers and keeps a perfect rotation of the water supply. If this is true the forests play an important part in the success or failure of our agricultural interests. Our various farm crops must have ample rainfall if they are to hold up to standard and if the rainfall is decreased by the cutting of our forests, we are not only losing the timber, but we are cutting down our other crop production as well. If it is true, that by depleting our forests we are reducing the rainfall, we are also seriously affecting our navigation and water power possibilities. If these foresters are right in their contention that timber depletion is responsible for the lack of rain in recent years, we already have paid a handsome price for our wastefulness and should take immediate steps to overcome this handicap that we have acquired as the result of our own folly.

PIHEASANTS EAT CUT WORMS

A farmer in Ontario thought that the pheasants were eating his corn. The game department killed two of the birds and examined their crops, in which were found 200 cut worms and no corn. It is a well known fact that pheasants prefer insects to grain food whenever they can get them.

Died.—At his home in this village
Sunday, August 10th., Rasmus R.
Hanson, aged 44 years. Deceased was a native of Denmark, and came to this country about 21 years ago, residing in Iowa for one year, and coming from there to this place, where he was married to Miss Hedwig Fisher, who died about 4 years ago. He leaves one daughter and four sons, with his sister, Mrs. Julius Nelson, to mourn his going home. He was an exemplary citizen, and recognized as an honest, upright man, who from frugality and labor had built a comfortable home, and was attaining a competence. His sudden death was a shock to the community, and his believed family will receive their full sympathy. He fell from a wagon loaded with lumber, on the 8th inst., striking on the back of his head and shoulders, receiving such injury that he was paralyzed, and though he partially recovered the use of his limbs and all was done for him that science could suggest, the shock could not be overcome. The funeral on Tuesday, conducted by Rev. H. Goldie, was largely attended, attesting the respect of our people.

first appearance as a pitcher for the Washington club.

COOLIDGE COUNTS ON THREE BILLION BUDGET

New Heavy Demands on Treasury; Hopes to Have Rail Merger Act.

Rapid City, S. D.—Problems of the next budget, labor conditions, and the coal strike and flood control legislation were discussed by the President in a recent conference with Gen. Herbert M. Lord, director of the budget;
Secretary of Labor Davis and Representative William E. Hull of Peoria.
No figure has been set for next year's budget, and while the President would be greatly pleased if this could be cut below $3,000,000,000, he thinks it will be something more than this, due to all the new demands on the treasury in sight. His departmental policies, as affecting the distribution of the budget, were talked over with General Lord.

It is the general expectation in congress, as reported to the President, that Boulder dam legislation will be passed by the next congress. The President is very hopeful that railroad consolidation will be effected during this administration, and while some could be facilitated by legislation, he thinks there are laws enough now adequate to provide for this.

After discussion with Secretary
Davis, the President found business conditions quite fair, with labor conditions extremely satisfactory.

The President has no intention of transferring by executive order the administration of the Philippines or other colonial possessions from the war department to the interior department. While he thinks he may have such authority he would much prefer to have congress do this, as it probably would involve legislation anyway.

Secretary Davis flew from Mooseheart, Ill., to Huron, S. D., where he took a train to the hills. Discussing the coal strike, he said that the non-union mines are now producing 1,000,000 tons a week under consumption, but as there is a reserve of 50, 000,000 or 60,000,000 tons, it will be a year before there is a shortage. If the nonunion mines run to capacity they could produce enough, he thinks.

Mr. Hull is on his way to study the Columbia basin irrigation project in Washington. He has been through the flood area and intends to go there again before congress meets. He said:

"Unnatural floods, when they come as the one that has just occurred, will overflow the banks of the Mississippi river and cause great disasters. This late flood, which covered an area of 150 miles in width and 300 miles in length of the finest land of the South, devastated more than enough property to furnish the funds to control the Mississippi river twice over.

"That is a condition that should never be allowed to occur again because no matter what it would cost in money furnished by the government of the United States, that money would be well spent.

"There should be no hesitancy by the congress to appropriate sufficient sums to repair the damage and give the people a chance to make their own living. The government should then act quickly in repairing the levees and in assisting the people of the district in starting life anew."

The President has decided to go to Newell, N. D., about September 1 to look at the irrigation project. On his way he is expected to be at Brookings, S. D., where he has been asked to dedicate a library of the State Agricultural college.

Ohio Coal Mines to Open;

Call on Governor to Aid
Cleveland, Ohio.—Ohio coal operators have advised Gov. A. V. Donahay that they intend to go forward with their efforts to open their mines, idle since April 1, and called upon him to protect them in the attempt.

A letter from S. H. Robbins, president of the Ohio Coal Operators' association, to the governor, declaring the operators "see no way out" except to reopen their mines, and advising that they would look to him to make good his "recently proclaimed assurance that Ohio industry and Ohio citizens will be protected while endeavoring to carry out their respective functions," was made public by Mr.
Robbins.

Mr. Robbins' letter was in response to an invitation issued by the governor to operators in the central competitive field to reconvene the adjourning Miami (Fla.) conference in an effort to arrive at a wage scale that would permit the mines to reopen on a normal basis. The Miami conference broke up last January in failure.

Farm Bureau Notes

R. D. Bailey, Co. Agricultural Agent

"Let us develop the resources of our land; call forth its powers, promote all its great interests, to see whether we also, in our day and generation, may not perform something to be remembered."—Webster.

Hog raising being so crudely done in our county, and this easy means of profit being so largely overlooked by our farmers, leads us to print the following from the pen of Mr. J. P. Hockema in the Michigan Farmer:

Are Your Hogs in Heaven?

A pig's idea of heaven is an alfalfa pasture, though red clover or rape aren't so bad. But, if a pig can take his choice, he usually will "hit for the alfalfa."

Did you know that when hogs are on pasture they take only about two-thirds as much feed to make a given amount of gain? In other words, where you feed 300 pounds of feed to hogs in the dry lot, it takes only 200 pounds to make the same gains if the hogs are out in pasture. When apples and water, and about once a week she had a little skim-milk, for per cent saving by putting your hogs on pasture, can you afford to keep them in the dry lot?

Some of the advantages of pastures are:

1. Helps to balance a ration of home-grown feeds.

2. Takes less grain per pound of gain.

3. Don't take so much high-priced, high-protein feeds as tankage, linseed meal, etc.

4. Pigs are healthier and more vigorous.

5. Pigs make faster gains so they can be put on the market earlier in the fall before the prices drop.

6. If used properly, it aids in round worm sanitation. In other words, the McLean system of hog sanitation provides for the use of clean pastures.

However, don't get the idea that all you have to do is to turn your hogs out into a pasture field, for they must have grain to gain. One farmer had his sow on blue grass pasture in August, and she had seven nursing (?) pigs. She had pasture (ahem) pounds to make the same gains if the hogs are out in pasture. When apples and water, and about once a week she had a little skim-milk, for per cent saving by putting your hogs on pasture, can you afford to keep them in the dry lot?

The Brand Is Your Insurance

THERE is an overproduction of crude oil. This has encouraged the opening of numerous small refineries. Many of these are operated by men unskilled in this work. The consequence is that in gasolines there is a wide variance in quality and performance.

Red Crown Ethyl is a new gasoline built upon an old, established brand. Red Crown Gasoline is the peer of any motor fuel made from pure petroleum. By adding Ethyl anti-knock compound to this splendid fuel, Red Crown Ethyl is produced.

Red Crown Ethyl does away with that annoying knock—the engine delivers a steady, smooth, flexible flow of power—it gives the car a snappy start, a quick pickup, and enables it to attain any speed the machine is capable of developing.

It has made the high-compression engine possible—and it makes your engine perform better.

Take no chances with your car—fuel it with Red Crown Ethyl. The brand is your protection.

Remember carbon in your cylinders decreases the space in the firing chamber, and of course increases the compression. But to hold this compression, thus enabling the carbon to work for you, be sure that your valves are clean and are seated properly—then Red Crown Ethyl will sing you a song that will delight.

don't believe those pigs ever made that man any money, even though he didn't have a very high feed bill.

Usually, we figure about two or three pounds of grain per hundred pounds of live stock daily, and of this five to six per cent should be tankage, skim-milk, soy beans, middlings, etc., providing the pigs are on alfalfa or clover; otherwise, from six to ten per cent of the supplement should be of the above concentrates, if they are running on blue grass, oats, etc.

In regards to kinds of pasture—alfalfa heads the list because: fencing is expensive, and a crop is demanded that will produce high yields and carry a maximum number of hogs. Alfalfa will carry from ten to eighteen hogs per acre. (2) Your fence must be used as long as possible, and alfalfa may be grazed from May to October. (3) Forage for hogs must be green and sappy, and alfalfa is always that. (4) Alfalfa seeded once needs little labor, whereas, rape, etc., require frequent seedings. (5) Alfalfa enriches the soil as well as the farmer. Alfalfa should not be pastured too heavily so as to injure the new shoots. Some hay should be taken off, even though it is pastured.

Red clover is also an excellent pasture crop, but is best in spring, early summer and fall. It may be supplemented with rape.

Rape is an excellent hog pasture, can be planted from early spring to midsummer, and will be ready to pasture all summer and fall, and will carry a large number of pigs per acre.

Of course, there are many others, such as sweet clover, blue grass, rye, etc., but the first three mentioned are preferable.

If you are short of grain, why not save about thirty-three per cent and put your hogs in heaven while they are on earth?—J. P. Hockema.

You Can Control Cucumber Beetle

Dust on hydrated lime every day while beetles bother. Use an empty corn or tomato can with 12 to 15 nail holes punched in the bottom. The lime sticks best if applied when dew is on, or vines are damp from light sprinkling with hose.

Hydrated lime is cheap; comes in sacks, like cement; is needed for many purposes on a farm or in a garden; what you do not use this year is good next year. Get it at dealers in lime, cement, plaster.

Grain Feeding Increasing Here

It is a welcome sign of improvement to learn from feed dealers that the amount of bagged dairy feed bought by our farmers is increasing at a strong rate.

Many who laughed at the idea of feeding grain to a cow that was picking her living by the roadside, are now steady users of the various leading brands of dairy feeds.

However, there are still many who have not carried this matter as far as they should.

45 Years Old When He Started to School

Too often our town and country boys quit school as soon as they pass the eighth grade examination. They feel that their education is finished, and that now they can loaf around pool rooms, fish, and idle their time away at their own sweet will.

They have no plans of preparing to meet the battle of life with any kind of preparation. They help swell the already too large a class that claim the world owes them a living.

When they grow up they will easily slip into the class that "jump" board bills, sneak out of paying grocery bills, milk bills, and rent.

Professor L. Haacker did not look so slightly upon schooling. For 27 years he has been one of the leading dairy authorities of the United States, most of the time at Minnesota College of Agriculture.

When he was 45 years of age, after he had been for 17 years secretary to the Governor of Michigan, the first dairy school in the United States was started in a dwelling house at the Agricultural College of Wisconsin, at Madison.

Although 45 years old, T. L. Haacker entered the school, where his ability as a buttermaker was soon recognized, and he was soon selected to teach others.

Please note the age—45 years old and still going to school. Not quite so self-satisfied as many youths of 15 to 16. He wanted to be someone and something in the world, and was willing to prepare, even at 45.

His career since, 27 years, as one of the leading and helpful authorities on dairying amply justifies his choice.

Have we not a few boys, and girls, too, who hunger and thirst for better preparation for life, and who are willing to work, save, strive and struggle to get it?

Before we know it, high schools and colleges will be opening for a new year. May we not hope that this appeal will reach a few who will break away from the common crowd, show their individuality, and work their way, if necessary, as many have done, through the Agricultural College, or some other institution of learning?

Proper Feed for Brood Sows Before Farrowing

Proper feed before and after farrowing will have a great deal of effect upon the size and vigor of the litters. A good deal of care should be taken not to make the ration too fattening. It would be better if there was no corn in the ration. However, this would not be economical on most farms, so as much as one-third of the grain ration may be corn if necessary. The remainder may consist of ground oats and middlings or bran. A small amount of linseed oil meal will help. All grain should be ground if not too expensive, as it will be found cheapest in the long run.

Besides the grain, the brood sow should have some kind of roughage. Alfalfa not only exceeds all other hay crops in yield and quality, but its use in a well-balanced dairy cow ration makes it possible for the farmer to get more pounds of butterfat per acre of crops grown for feed, states the Blue Valley Creamery Institute.

Furthermore, the farmer who grows alfalfa with corn and oats reduces his requirements for purchased concentrates to balance his ration properly.

A suitable ration containing alfalfa hay, one which will keep a good dairy cow of medium size in good health and supply her with sufficient kinds and amounts of milk-making feeds to produce one pound of butterfat a day at lowest cost, can be made up of approximately 12 pounds of alfalfa hay, 38 pounds of corn silage, 4 pounds of ground corn, 2 pounds of ground oats, and 1 pound of linseed oil meal. Average yields of the field crops used in this ration enable the farmer with good cows to produce 98 pounds of butterfat from each acre devoted to the growing of these crops. Only one pound of purchased concentrates is required for producing one pound of butterfat from this ration.

Where the farmer relies on timothy for his sole dry roughage, it can be substituted for alfalfa hay in making up a fairly efficient ration which would contain about 12 pounds of timothy hay, 38 pounds of corn silage, 4 pounds of ground corn, 5 pounds of ground oats, 2 pounds of wheat bran and 2 pounds of linseed oil meal. The cost of this ration, however, is over half again higher than the one in which alfalfa instead of timothy hay was used. With average yields of timothy hay, corn and oats, and with the addition of two and one-half times as much purchased protein concentrates required to properly supplement these farm grown feeds, only 60 pounds of butterfat are possible from each acre of feed crops grown.

Alfalfa hay in dairy cow feeding, therefore, makes the most economical ration because it greatly cuts the cost of producing cream by reducing the acreage needed for growing feed crops, by saving time and labor in planting and harvesting the crops, and by lessening the amounts of purchased protein supplements needed to balance the ration.

A LITTLE TALK ON THRIFT

(By S. W. Straus, President American Society for Thrift.)

Save one hundred dollars, then decide whether you want to continue in the practices of thrift.

This advice recently was given by a banker to a young couple who had come to him for suggestions regarding ways and means of practicing thrift.

The advice to forget everything else so to speak, and concentrate on the saving of $100 was sound, and could well be accepted by anyone who today does not practice systematic thrift.

The saving of $100 to many persons may mean a considerable effort of economy. But after their nest-egg has reached this amount, they begin to reap the mental and financial benefits of their economy. They find themselves stronger, and more easily able to resist the temptation to fritter away odd sums of money.

Where the practice previously seemed a hard task, it now brings a glow of enthusiasm and interest.

They begin to feel the joy of getting ahead. They gain the sense of stability and moral courage which was not theirs before. They realize that at last they are on the right road.

Persons who are leading thriftless lives today should bear these thoughts in mind. To deny one's self certain pleasures and indulgences is not an inviting prospect to them. They feel that they should get the maximum amount of pleasure out of life from day to day, and the thought of knocking down to a more prosaic mode of existence does not appeal to them.

But by the time $100 has been made its appearance in the columns of their savings bank pass book, the practice of thrift has become something of a real pleasure and they go on accumulating more and more while the joy of possession increases constantly.

Do not refrain from practicing thrift because you feel that it will mean hardship and privation. The first few steps may be difficult, but after that it becomes the greatest dividend payer in happiness and peace of mind that can be found.

If you have never saved any money, try the plan suggested by the banker in the first paragraph of this article.

STATE PARK HAS GREATEST YEAR

Attendance at the East Tawas State Park this season has eclipsed all previous records, according to the caretaker. Mr. Goupil, who has been caretaker at this park for a considerable period, declares that the park is growing in popularity annually. One of his guests this season was an Ohio man, who has been at the park five consecutive years. Conservation department records show that East Tawas park, one of the oldest under state management, has always been one of the leaders in point of attendance.

BUREAU EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE AT GAYLORD

The annual summer meeting of the executive committee of the North-Eastern-Michigan Development Bureau will take place at the Gaylord Country club on August 19. The meeting will be initiated with a luncheon at 1:30 o'clock. Newspaper men of North-Eastern Michigan will be guests of the executive committee at the meeting. Harvey J. Campbell, vice president and executive of the Detroit Board of Commerce, will be the speaker of the day.

Decision to hold the meeting at Gaylord was made at the annual meeting in Bay City in March after an invitation has been extended to the Bureau by Herman Lunden, of Gaylord, president of the Bureau, and John Yuill, of Vanderbilt.

The meeting is being held late in the season to permit those in attendance to take advantage of the resorts in the vicinity over the week end. Residents of Gaylord have been invited to attend the business meeting.

A popular newcomer to Washington society is Mrs. William B. Ladue, wife of Colonel Ladue, the new engineer commissioner of the District of Columbia.

A DRIVER'S RESPONSIBILITY

The man at the wheel of a speeding motor often fails to appreciate the grave responsibility he assumes for other lives. What is true of the road hog and the reckless speeder is also true of the driver who tries to beat the train. All too often it is not alone the lives of such drivers and their passengers that are sacrificed to criminal folly, but trains are wrecked with loss of life among their crews and passengers.

Have you ever made good on one job.. for 39 years?

THE extra mileage you get from Dunlop tires starts with the fact that Dunlop has had thirty-nine years of tire-building experience—more than any other tire-maker.

Each part of each Dunlop is built right. Dunlop owns its own cotton mills to spin selected long-fibre cotton into the special Dunlop cable-twist cords.

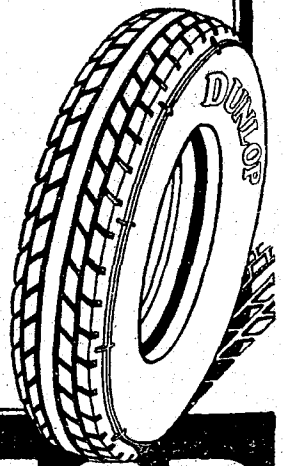

These cords mean extra strength—an added factor of safety against constant load and pounding of roads—longer life and greater mileage.

They mean extra "stretch"—so the tire carcass will give under blows, and come back to its original shape without the slightest injury.

Every Dunlop you buy has extra miles built into it because Dunlop knows each part of its job. That is why we recommend you put Dunlops on your car.

Particular attention of readers is invited to the Conservation advertisement of the Michigan Press Association appearing in this issue of the Advance. During the next two years the Michigan Press Association has given much time and thought to the subject of conservation which is of vital importance to all people of the nation, and particularly to the residents of Michigan who desire to have the "Playground of the Nation" preserved for themselves and their posterity. Read the ad carefully, tell your friends about it and invite them to join you in observing the rules outlined to protect and preserve the beauties which nature has so bounteously bestowed upon us.

Rev. L. S. Davidson of the Free Methodist church has returned and is packing his household goods preparatory to moving to Wilson, near Alpena where he has been assigned as pastor of the church of that denomination. Rev. Davidson has been in Grayling for two years and has been very successful with the local church. He is a splendid gentleman and a conscientious worker. He speaks very highly of the people of Grayling and says he has been accorded splendid assistance in his work. He deplores the fact, however, that the people of Grayling are not better church-going people. We are very sorry indeed to have Rev. Davidson leave this city and wish him the best of success in his new field. Other changes made by the conference, that is now in session in Flint, that are of interest to Grayling people are: Rev. H. L. Wilson has been returned to Wolverine and Rev. George Segden to Afton. Grayling will have no regular pastor for the present, the pulpit to be supplied from time to time.

DOES COURTESY PAY?

Courtesy to the tourists is an investment of something tangible that brings big results. During the recent past, several instances of where folks came back to this section for their summer vacations mainly because they liked the people here, and were so well pleased with the courteous treatment they received. Not only the outing attractions which they find in Michigan, they state, brought them back, but the congenial treatment received on other occasions induced them to seek this section again this year.

Merchants and their clerks, garage and other operators along that line, police officers, hotel folks and all others will find great return by exercising more than ordinary courtesy and attention to the nomads from other parts who find their way through this section, and following that policy constantly would easily earn for Michigan the title of "The Courteous State."

MORE FINE BAND CONCERTS

This week, on Tuesday evening the crack Medical Regiment band came to Grayling and played a most delightful concert. This organization consisted of about 30 players under direction of Laurie Heathcote, bandmaster and manager.

The concert consisted of several very choice musical numbers, as follows:

March, "Invercarigill," Lithgow.
Overture, "The Bridal Rose," Lava-lier.
Fox Trots, (A) "Sam, the Old Accordion Man," Donaldson. (B) "Crazy Words, Crazy Tunes," Myers.
Piccolo Solo, "La Belle France," Prenderville. Pvt. I. C. John Toomey, Waltz, "Mighty Lak' A Rose," Nevin.

Vocal Solo, "The Sunshine of Your Smile," Ray, W. O. Laurie Heathcote, tenor.

Popular Numbers, (A) "Because They All Love You," Rose. (B) "Honolulu Moon," Collins.

March, "Under the Double Eagle," Wagner.

Star Spangled Banner.

The music was delightfully harmonious and most beautifully rendered under the magnetic direction of the leader. The piccolo solo by Private John Toomey and the vocal tenor or solos by director Laurie Heathcote called for outbursts of applause that necessitated encores. In fact every number on the program was a real musical treat.

After the concert the members of the band were guests of the Village Council and enjoyed with the members of the local committee, hot coffee, sandwiches and fried cakes.

While the men were smoking the crowd was nicely entertained by Messrs. Laurie Heathcote, warrant officer; Pvt. Percy Comley; Corporal Joseph Neale and Private Jack Hill.
Real vaudeville performers couldn't have been more pleasing.

O. P. Schumann, on behalf of the citizens of Grayling, thanked the band members for their music and assured them that it was greatly enjoyed and appreciated by the people.
Other speakers were Pvt. Rowland Heathcote, Sgt. William Horner and
Pvt. John Toomey. Pvt. Rowland
Heathcote, who is the father of Bandmaster Laurie Heathcote, said in his talk that his first trip to Grayling was three years ago and that he came again last year, although he was absent from Detroit at the time, and this year he came again because he had learned to love the camp and enjoy the fine climate of this region.
And that now he was beginning to get acquainted with the people of Grayling and found them very agreeable.

Sgt. Horner, who has travelled extensively, says that nowhere in Switzerland, France, England, Scotland or Ireland had he viewed more beautiful scenery than there was right at Camp Grayling. The scenery of the Alps was beautiful but was circum-scribed by mountain walls, while here one might see for long distances. All the men were strong in their praises for the camp but, of course, hoped that each year the nights would not be quite so cold as they have been this year.

MAGAZINE COVER PAGE SHOWS EAST MICHIGAN SCENE

The July issue of the Midwest Motorist, printed at Kansas City, Mo., carried a reproduction of an East Michigan scene on the outside of the front cover, with the label "E. M. T." Inside on the editorial page was the caption, "How Do You Like Our Cover Picture?" and underneath, the following: "How do you like the water nymphs pictured on the cover of this magazine? This is the way you find them in Michigan, at least the East Michigan Tourist association vouches for this statement and they sent us the photograph to prove it." This publicity was without charge to the association.

NORTHERN CITY IS JAMMED WITH TOURISTS

Monday, August 7, was a banner day for merchants and tradesmen of Alpena, according to the Alpena Daily News. Tourists from all sections of the country flowed through the highways and byways. The city park was jammed to capacity by campers. It was the biggest day of the season with the exception of July 4, according to the restaurateurs and hotel men.

Next to a line fence there is nothing that will start a battle like trying to relocate the county seat.

Permanent streets are a good investment—not an expense

Don't Let Your Community Make the Same Mistake

Within recent years many communities have made the mistake of paving their highways at what they considered a "bargain price." The taxpayers thought they would save thousands of dollars.

In many instances the maintenance has not only wiped out the hoped for saving, but has exceeded original cost. And in many cases also it has been necessary to build entirely new streets—of permanent construction.

There are communities, however, which know the cheapest is not always the best.
Many of these also built streets several years ago. And they built for permanence with concrete.

Those concrete streets, built in accordance with approved standards of highway construction, are in as good condition today as when they were built.

Which of these communities will yours be?

ness of about a year, having been removed to the hospital during the day.
The funeral was held Saturday, a short prayer being read at the Clara Johnson home at 10:00 a. m., after which the remains were taken by motor to Mio in Oscoda county, where the funeral was held with interment in the Kittle cemetery.

Betsy Bainbridge was born in Livingston county, October 7, 1856,
where they remained for two years.
About this time they decided to purchase a home and so came to Oscoda county, where Mrs. Johnson had since resided, or up to two years ago, when she went to live among her children.
She came to Grayling about thirteen weeks ago, where she was making her home with her son, Clara Johnson, and was receiving medical care from local physicians.

Mrs. Johnson was the mother of eight children, three of whom passed away in infancy, those surviving being one daughter and four sons, Mrs.
Joel Deyarmond, Walled Lake, Mich.;
Clinton Johnson, Canada; Levi and Ralph Johnson, Pentecost, Mich., and Clara of Grayling. Also fifteen grandchildren survive.

CARD OF THANKS

Our sincere appreciation is hereby extended to our good neighbors and Grayling friends for their many kind-flowers, and other acts of sympathy.

Mrs. Joel Deyarmond,

Johnson and families.
